POLICE TOO BUSY SUPPRESSING NEWS TO RUN DOWN SUPPOSED MURDERERS

It was reported to the police yesterday afternoon, that two men, supposed to be Sullivan and Garcia, the fugitive highwaymen and murderers, were seen in the northern part of the city. Although the prowlers were seen by several reliable persons, the police, after a hunt, gave up the chase without finding the men described.

Two men were attacked in the streets Monday night by robbers. One, a mining engineer, was struck upon he head and left apparently dead, after his pockets had been rifled. These robberies were suppressed by the police evidently in an attempt to cover

From two sources the pelice learned yesterday afternoon that two men, closely resembling Joe Sullivan and Joe Garcia, the robbers who are wanted for the murder of Policeman Ford, had been seen prowling in the northern part of the city. Search was at one made for the suspects, but they could not be found. If the men were really Sullivan and Garcia, they must have returned to their hiding place. If they were not the fugitives it is considered strange that the police could not overtake them.

There is no doubt that for Sullivan and Garcia to go vandering through the streets in broad daylight would be an exhibition of incredible boldness, and yet there were crimes on Monday night, hidden from publicity by the police, which indicate that despite the supposed alertiness of the police robbers are operating in the streets of Salt Lake with more than their usual industry. One of Monday night, victims of robbers was a mining engineer, who was knocked down by sandbayerers and while be law useen.

The first seen of the two prowlers sup-The first seen of the two prowlers supposed to have been Sullivan and Garcia was when they were walking along the boulevard toward City creek canyon. Policeman Kast, one of the guards of the chain gang, noticed them, but they were too far away for him to study their appearance. As he was guarding prisoners he could not go to them, although it erossed his mind that it would be well to inquire into the movements of the stranhe could not go to them, although it erossed his mind that it would be well to inquire into the movements of the strangers, whose actions indicated that they were idlers. They did not continue as far as the chain gang, however, but turned into one of the side streets. A little later a carpenter passed Policeman Kast and stated that he had seen two men who looked like Sullivan and Garcia. They had walked on B street to Sixth avenue. Kast at once called up police headquarters and search was begun for the strangers.

County Attorney Hanson stated yester day after that Owen will be taken before any plead guilty and will probably be at once sentenced. If this program is carried out owen will spend Thursday night in the state penitentiary.
